Box No. V	Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1-8	YES
	Claims		NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims		YES
	Claims	1-8	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-8	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations (Rule 70.7)

1. Independent device claim 1

1.1 According to the wording of independent claim 1, document DE-A-3741652 discloses a dishwashing machine (see column 1, paragraph 1) having a washing compartment (1), wherein the dishwashing machine has a (closed) duct system connected to the washing compartment in such a way that air is able to circulate (see figure), wherein a heat pipe (13) serving to preheat the dehumidified air extends into the air duct system, such that the drying effect is improved (see column 2, lines 22-26).

1.2 The subject matter of the current independent claim 1 therefore differs from that of document DE-A-3741652 in that the heat pipe (10, 10', 10'', 10''') protrudes with both ends into the duct system (4, 4', 4'', 4'''), the heat pipe being used to both cool and heat the air guided through it. In contrast, in the machine according to document DE-A-3741652 the air is cooled by means of a heat exchanger (9) integrated into the duct system.

-----------	---

- 1.3 The technical effect achieved consists in the fact that the air heating source and the air cooling source is integrated into a single unit, which can reduce energy consumption. The objective technical object is therefore understood to be that of designing a dishwashing machine of this kind.
- 1.4 Document US-A-3985182 discloses a heat pipe (8, figure 1) for household appliances, which serves to both cool and heat a fluid. This heat pipe functions in the same way as the heat pipe of claim 1, as described on page 6, line 34, to page 7, line 2 (see column 3, line 4, to column 4, line 15, of document US-A-3985182). It would therefore appear obvious to a person skilled in the art to replace the heat pipe (13) and the heat exchanger (9) of the dishwashing machine according to DE-A-3741652 with the above kind of heat pipe in order to cool and heat the air in the duct system and in this way to arrive at the subject matter of the present independent claim 1, without thereby exercising inventive skill.
- 1.5 Consequently, the present application does not satisfy the requirements of PCT Article 33(3) because the subject matter of claim 1 does not involve an inventive step relative to the prior art as defined by PCT Rule 65.

2. Dependent claims 2-8

These dependent claims contain no features which, combined with the features of any claim to which they refer, meet the PCT requirements for inventive step (PCT Article 33(3)). The reasons are as follows:

- 2.1 Claim 2: the subject matter of claim 2 does not concern any further advantageous structural features of the dishwashing machine according to claim 1, but a method for drying the dishes in a dishwashing machine. Therefore, claim 2 does not meet the requirements of PCT Rule 6.4(a). With the dishwashing machine according to document DE-A-3741652, the air must be guided from the washing compartment to the duct system during the program step "drying".
- 2.2 Claim 3: the subject matter of claim 3 is essentially disclosed in document DE-A-3741652, since this air duct system has both an air inlet (7) and an air outlet (8), as well as a fan (10).
- 2.3 Claims 4 and 5: the heat pipe according to document US-A-3985182 both cools and heats the air.
- 2.4 Claim 6: the subject matter of this claim is obvious to a person skilled in the art. If the air is not sufficiently heated, the arrangement of an additional air heating source appears to be a routine measure.

2.5 Claims 7 and 8: to a person skilled in the art proceeding from the teaching of document DE-A-3741652 (see column 2, lines 44-47), the use of a condenser in a closed air duct system in a dishwashing machine is a routine measure.

Box I:

Basis of the report1. Dependent claim 9

The subject matter of the present claim 9 is not explicitly disclosed in the original document, nor implied therein. According to the examples, an air-cooling precedes the heating.

The amendments submitted with the letter of 18 May 2005 therefore introduce substantive matter which, contrary to PCT Article 34(2) (b), goes beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed.
